Kanoo Travel Enters Top 10 of Middle East's Travel Power List

In such a broad industry as travel, it's certainly not been an easy task to come up with a definitive list of the high-achieving men and women who are truly shaping our industry today; and the past few weeks has seen the Arabian Travel News team embroiled in many a heated discussion or two as to who should make the 'Final 50' – not to mention the coveted top spot in our Power List this year.

Having taken on board the comments and opinions of many industry experts and friends, we've finally come up with a ranking that we think reflects the wide-ranging nature of the industry today.

Ireland

With stunning scenery, fascinating history, rich culture and a relaxed way of life, Ireland remains one of the top tourist destinations in Europe. From the vibrant nightlife of Dublin to the stunning beauty of the west coast, there is something in Ireland for everyone. So whether you are looking for a relaxing holiday, great nights out or even a corporate trip, Ireland will not disappoint.

Ireland is famously beautiful. From the rugged Atlantic coastlines to the lush inland valleys and forests, the landscape provides a stunning backdrop to your trip. However, Ireland is much more than just a pretty face. It is steeped in history and culture that can be traced back for thousands of years, and ancient structures, early Christian settlements and medieval castles can be seen everywhere.

Considering its small size, Ireland has produced a wealth of writers and musicians over the years, including four Nobel Prize for Literature winners: George Bernard Shaw, William Butler Yeats, Samuel Beckett and Seamus Heaney. Famous Irish musicians include U2 and Sinéad O'Connor, while traditional Irish music can be heard in pubs up and down the country every night.

There are plenty of activities and things to do for visitors of all ages. Ireland has some of the best golf courses in Europe, and is also a top destination for fishing, surfing, sailing, equestrian and more. There are miles of beautiful unspoilt beaches and lots of things to do for the kids as well.

Ireland is a country that you can visit any time of year. The weather is certainly warmer in summer, but the country's temperate climate means that you can visit all year around. It is also easy to get to. Three major airports – Dublin, Shannon and Cork – serve destinations all over Europe, North America and beyond, while there are also a number of ferry ports.

There is a lot to see and do in Ireland so it pays to plan your trip before you go. You can find a wealth of information on sights, attractions, travel and accommodation on the web, and Tourism Ireland and All In Ireland are good places to start. If you would like some assistance planning your trip, feel free to contact the nearest Kanoo Holidays office, or alternatively email mathewzac@ybakanoo.net. Let us manage all the arrangements, so you can relax and enjoy your break while they do all the work.
