How to avoid losing your baggage when you travel

Step 1 Make sure your luggage is clearly marked with a tag that states your name. Make sure it is under plastic and written with a permanent marker.

Step 2 Write your name and address on the inside of each piece of your luggage as well, whether you write it on the luggage itself or on a slip of paper.

Step 3 Tie a very bright and easily identifiable scarf around the handle of your bag. If you have a bag that looks like someone else's, they could grab your bag by mistake. The bright scarf will make your bag different from the other similar looking luggage.

Step 4 Take a direct flight. If you can't then allow enough of a layover time to make sure your bag has enough time to end up on your plane.

Emirates to add 17 flights to Asia Pacific routes

Emirates said on Wednesday that it plans to increase its footprint in Asia Pacific next month with growth on its Bangkok, Sydney, Manila and Jakarta routes.

Starting in December, the Dubai airline will introduce a fourth daily service to Bangkok, a third daily service to Sydney, two additional flights to Manila and one additional service to Jakarta.

A total of 17 flights per week will be added between December and January, representing 13 percent growth in seat capacity, the carrier said in a statement.

Qatar Airways business class named best in world

Qatar Airways continued its award-winning streak as the Five-Star-ranked carrier was named World's Leading Airline - Business Class for the second year running. Almost 1,000 decision makers from the global travel and tourism industry gathered for the 16th World Travel Awards, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel in central London.

Qatar Airways once again beat stiff competition to win the title as decided by thousands of travel professionals from over 180,000 travel agencies, transport companies and tourism organizations in over 160 countries worldwide.

Etihad to operate double daily flights to Frankfurt

Etihad Airways, the national airline of the United Arab Emirates, will increase its Abu Dhabi-Frankfurt services from 10 to 13 per week from 12 December, increasing to a double daily from 28 March 2010.

Etihad's flights to Frankfurt, which were launched in June 2005, are among the most popular of its European services, providing high volumes of traffic into Abu Dhabi as well as transit traffic to destinations like Bangkok, Kuala Lumpur and Sydney.
